

Jacob

Jesus said, “Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of heaven belongs to such as these.” Matthew 19:14

A heart unlocked and ready to receive love!

Jacob is a sweet, kind child who has changed so much in the past several months. Why? The influence of his mother. Jacob yearned for the love, care, and acceptance of his mother. Several months ago, Karla, Jacob, and Esau all started going home each weekend to stay with their mom. El Ayudante built a home for their mother to ensure that the children had a good, safe place to sleep at night. For Jacob, establishing a bond with his mother is exactly what he has needed. He is now a very happy, energetic child that has the confidence to do anything he desires. Jacob even made honor roll at school during the first session this year. Because Jacob now knows that his mother loves and accepts him, he is beginning to understand and grasp the love he is given here at El Ayudante. Your love and support over the past several months have also profoundly impacted Jacob. His mother unlocked his heart with a key only she had. Now, we are watching as he is responding and growing as a result of your support.
