

Jenny!

Jesus said, “Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of heaven belongs to such as these.” Matthew 19:14

From beautiful hands!

Jenny is stunningly beautiful, both inside and out. Her wisdom and maturity have greatly impacted the other children in the center. Her artistic talent is amazing, and we proudly hang one of her recent masterpieces in the living room at HCN. What is most amazing about Jenny is what she has taught so many about sharing what you have been given.

The following quote by Ed Pudol summarizes Jenny’s generous spirit: “When blessing comes into your hands, don’t forget to share to others, so that blessing will not stop in your hands. Let the blessings spread and flow from your hands infinitely.” Jenny’s excitement to help children in a small community special needs school about 45 bumpy and dusty minutes from El Ayudante helped to ignite a passion in all the girls at HCN to give what is in their hands to others. The top row of pictures are of Jenny working in the special needs school in Cristo Rey. Be it her artwork (which blesses so many) or her quiet beauty in the way she leads and loves others, Jenny gives from both her hands and her heart. By pouring your love and resources into Jenny, you have equipped her to share the blessings in her hands.
