

Milagros!

Jesus said, “Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of heaven belongs to such as these.” Matthew 19:14

May I have a Bible please?

Milagros is a brilliant honor roll student who loves to read and study. One of her first days at HCN, Milagros was lying in her bed reading a Bible storybook. I entered the room to check on her and see how she was adjusting to her new home. Milagros was so engrossed in her book, she did not even note my presence. I watched her as she was captivated by the Bible stories. Within several minutes she realized I was there. She said hello and then asked if she could ask me a special question. Milagros’ question was, “May I have a Bible please?”

Milagros is a loving child who has blossomed at HCN. When she first arrived she was timid and did not like to play or be with the other children. Above is a picture of Milagros with the older girls at HCN on a special day trip to the pool. The confidence Milagros has gained from being loved, over the last several months, has changed her entire being. Now you will see her hanging out with all the other girls, always talking and giggling.

Milagros still has the same precious heart that provoked her to ask if she could please have a Bible. The love she has received at HCN has given her confidence in herself. Thank you so much for loving Milagros!
